

Welcome to The Infant Informative

Friday 26th January 2024

Today, the children were extremely lucky to have a theatre company in performing Jack & The Beanstalk. It was brilliant, the children loved every second - best of all, it was FREE! A local school cancelled last minute so the company asked if we would like the performance instead - 🌙 YES PLEASE! Ask your child about the show, I am sure they will tell you all about it.

On Wednesday the whole school practised a 'lockdown drill'. This involved staff locking doors, closing windows and blinds, turning off lights and children huddling in an area of the classroom. I know this might sound scary, but we have been prepping the children for ages with this. They all did very well and all understood that this was not real. Nursery thought it was a big game of hide-and-seek! More detailed information about this drill was sent to parents by ParentMail on Wednesday.

Has your child been vaccinated for measles? There has been a worrying outbreak in some areas of the country, find out more here: click here

On Monday, we welcomed in the NHS Wheeze Clinic - thank you to those who attended. We were happy to receive really positive feedback about the session.

Last week I mentioned that three charities sent us letters to thank you for your donations over the Christmas period. I referenced this, but accidently did not include the letters - I have now, you'll see them below... promise!

Have a great weekend, Mr O'Shea :)

Cantanautinautina
Class name	Child's name	Comment
Diamond	Isaac	For being ready for learning and being busy during activities.
Ruby	Alice	For always following our school rules of ready, respectful and safe.
Topaz	Jaxon	For being respectful and trying his best in every lesson!
Amethyst	Mirha	For always being ready to learn.
Emerald	Antiopi	Great enthusiasm for learning about rainforests.
Sapphire	Summer	For fantastic effort in her maths.

Not if, when. A child will be hurt if our driving and parking around the school does not improve.

Dear Mr O'Shea.

[Child's name] was very nearly hit by a carthis morning (25/01/24) on our way into school. [Child's name] was on the pavement, not next to the kerb, but was almost hit by someone turning around or Crawley Ride. The [child] is small so I honestly think the driver didn't see them, but because the driver mounted the kerb when reversing, it could have been much worse than the horrible shock we all had.

Thank you, [parent's name]

This week's recommended read is We're going to find the Monster by Malorie Blackman for no other reason that it is a fun and enjoyable story about family which has been a popular choice in my household since it was gifted at Christmas - I hope it becomes popular in your homes too!

We use Trick Box everyday at school. It teaches children to regulate their own emotions and become their own problem solvers. We have a new 'trick' every two weeks for Reception and KS1 children. Nursery have similar 'habits' to learn too. Press the Trick Box logo to the left, to navigate to our website with all of the information you will need to practice these tricks at home too.

This week in early years, we have...

This week began with finishing our focus on The Tiger Who Came to Tea. We enjoyed retelling and sequencing the story, creating tiger models out of junk modelling and counting tigers.

We have moved on to our next book, Postman Bear. The bear delivers invitations to his birthday party so of course we had to throw the bear a birthday party here! We enjoyed making vanilla cupcakes and later re-enacting our baking experience by making playdough cakes too. We have even drawn birthday cards and party invitations!

What an exciting week we have had. Our story of the week has been Supertato, the children have completely immersed themselves and been so creative.

We have had two new sounds this week; ai and ee – we have painted rainbows, made paper chains, put cotton wool on sheep and put bees on our knees!

Our maths this week has been looking at doubles and adding two groups together.

In drawing club this week we have created our own superhero vegetable, a new villain and a good vs evil sorting machine! Our words have been: nemesis, heroic, courageous, quest, shrieked, summoned, obstruct and vanquish!

We have loved seeing what mischief evil pea has got up to around our class. We have made our own Supertato, evil pea traps, dressed up as superheroes, learnt a superhero song, made wanted posters, our own superhero badges, masks and completed superhero challenges.

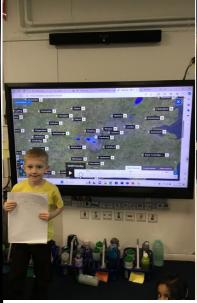

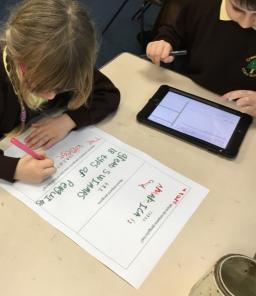

This week in KS1 we have...

YEAR1

This week we wrapped up our Antarctic adventures by writing a fact file about emperor penguins. The children used alliteration and adjectives confidently to produce a published article which we turned into a class book. In maths the children have linked number bonds of ten to number bonds of 20, we have worked very hard to ensure we are writing our 'teen' numbers and not our 'ty' numbers (15/50). In Art we have started looking at a very familiar illustrator, Axel Scheffler, and how he sketches the portraits in his pictures. We became weather reporters in Geography which we thoroughly enjoyed. Science we have been looking into the properties of materials using language such as, rough, bendy, smooth. All in all, another extremely busy week in Year 1.

Please ensure that no earrings or watches are worn on PE days.

YEAR?

This week we have created information texts about the Amazon Rainforest. We have included lots of fascinating facts – they are super! In maths we have begun learning about multiplication and division through recognising equal groups and repeated addition. In PE, we mirrored each other to create a mirror image dance. In geography we have identified features as human and physical. We have continued our collages of rainforest animals in art, inspired by Megan Coyle. In science we have used secondary sources to answer questions about how animals are adapted to suit their environments.

Children and Family Health

Children and Family Health Surrey has launched a new webpage to provide winter safety advice to families including tips about road crossing and being seen in the dark, cycling, playing in the snow and keeping warm.

- · Remind older children to put away their phones and take out any earphones when crossing roads
- Get your child into the habit of wearing their helmet and if you cycle as a family, remember to wear yours too. It is a legal requirement to have lights and reflectors on bikes when you are out between sunset and sunrise.
- · When sledging in the snow choose a slope that is not too steep, make sure it is free of obstacles and does not end near a road, body of water or solid objects such as trees, fences and walls.
- · Babies lose heat though their heads so remove hats or hoods when indoors, in a shopping centre or in a car, and remove all outdoor clothing when indoors to avoid overheating.
